$1,090,188 BUDGET CONSIDERED BY WARREN BORO SCHOOL BOARD

A 1957-58 budget of $1,090,188.64 was tentatively approved by the Warren Borough School Board Monday night, but despite an increase of over $125,000 compared to the current budget there will be no additional tax levied.

This year the board anticipates receipts totalling approximately $430,000 from the 25 mill property tax, five dollar per capita tax, and five dollar tax on each resident or inhabitant over 21 years of age. The same levy for 1957-58 is expected to bring a slightly higher amount. The bulk of the remaining budget necessary will come from the state and the balance on hand from the current fiscal year.

The larger changes in next year's budget are chiefly due to increased salaries and the finances that will be necessary toward starting a new high school.

Final consideration of the new budget will be given at a May 6 meeting.

It was reported by Cortez Fisk, of the Department of Public Instruction, that a final inspection of the Jefferson building had been completed and the percentage of state reimbursement would be determined at a conference scheduled for 2:30 p. m. today in Harrisburg. Representing the Warren board at the meeting are Superintendent Carl E. Whipple and Myron E. Jewell.

March bills approved by the school officials totalled $33,775.29, the largest percentage going to the jointure for operation of the junior and senior high schools. Other payments approved were $820.09, orders written during the month; $780.60, special school milk program; $731.50, substitute teachers; $120.50, special services; $116, recreational services; $128.50, janitors' overtime.

Reimbursements adding to over one thousand dollars were received from the state -- $93, January dental program; $384.90, February special school milk program; $554.66, transportation for last year.

The board named Fred Bell to head this summer's tennis program on the Beaty courts with John Leathers, Harold Miller and Richard Kauffman to assist. Mrs. Pauline Newman was elected to serve as dental hygienist and Miss Mary Elliott was employed as an elementary teacher for next year.

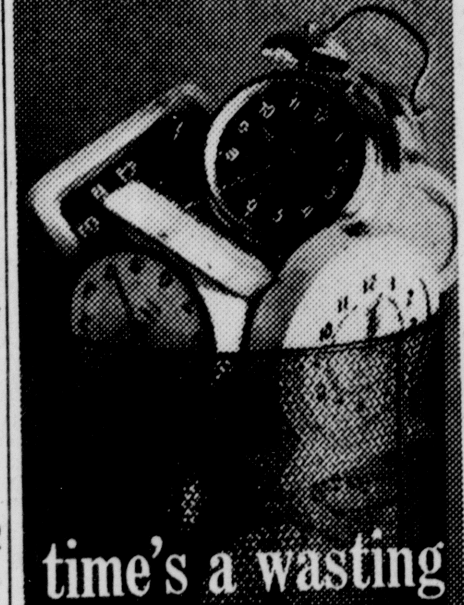

TB PATCH TESTS. Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, administrative assistant of the Warren County Tuberculosis Society, is pictured applying a patch to the arm of student Douglas Palmer in the final stage of the society's Tuberculin Patch Test program in Warren County schools. The program started March 4 and since that time approximately 7,000 elementary school children have received the test to reveal any possible signs of tuberculosis. Observing the operation at Beaty school Monday were (l. to r.) Joe Krimmel, Ed MacKendrick, TB president Frank Foster, Mrs. Robertson, school nurse, and Mrs. Trussler, state nurse

NEW CHORUS. The Young Women's Christian Association of Warren is in the process of forming a new Women's Chorus. Among those present for the opening rehearsal Monday evening were (l. to r.) seated -- Marion Whipple, Elouise Connors, Becky Powell, Joan Retterer, Ruth Merroth and Joan Cook; standing -- Barbara DeFrees, Madelyn Whren, Lee Burke, Nancy Condio, Jo Barrett, Alice Jones, Bertha Douglas, and Maybelle Bairstow, YWCA executive.

Several members of the group were not present.

Free Press Denials

By Bob Walsh

Freedom of the press is not something that is exclusively ours. The present effort to pass a law in Harrisburg which will make it necessary for governing bodies to open their doors to the public is not something that applies to some other area, alone. It comes right home to us.

We often have written that the battle to attain true freedom of the press is a continuing one. It was not handed to us by those who wrote and fought to establish the constitution. They simply provided the framework.

It is up to us to carry on that fight and to make such freedom work. When a school board or council goes into executive session it is denying you the full details of what is being done with your business. It is not a private affair belonging only to the council, the school board, or the township supervisors. It is public business.

The proposed law would make such meetings open to the press and the public. And it would make it necessary for officials to announce such meetings in advance through press and radio. Any business transacted at a meeting which was not publicly announced or which was closed to the public would not be official.

Examples of denials can be found in our own area. With the Warren jointure about to spend over two million dollars on a high school which will play a major part in the county's future, much of the talk has taken place at what are called teacher sessions, which is another name for executive session. Later, however, due to some insistence on the part of a few courageous joint committee members, a major part of the discussion has been open.

Recently one group of public officials bought a car, but refused to publicize the price. Why were the people who actually paid for the car denied the right to know what they paid for it?

In another case a governing group attempted to avoid publicizing the salary it was paying a public official. Why? This group was not paying the salary out of its own pocket.

It was public money, and anyone working for the public must expect everyone to know what they earn. For the simple reason that everyone is helping to pay the bill.

We can name many more, including the per capita tax in Warren, which was sold to council several years ago in executive session. In such a session it was possible to say out loud why such a tax is easy to put across. The reason being that the public is not organized to buck such an unfair assessment while in the case of every other tax there is a chamber of commerce, a trade association, a labor union, or some group which can lobby against whatever proposal is made.

This is a good law, with the teeth that such a law should have. If it opens up those doors and gives your public relations proxy, the press, an ear at the governing table, it will be another step toward the ideal for which we find the basis in the constitution of the United States.

LEGISLATION AIMED AT WARREN AREA SCHOOL?

Those who oppose a new high school on a new site for the Warren area do not give up easily. Their stalling and harrasing tactics have been continually evident, even though much study by the joint committee, its special committee, educators, architects, and a citizens committee provided information that moved the board twice to approve a new school on the Fifth Avenue site.

It is not surprising, then, that there are some who suspect these opposers have a part in the present effort to push a bill through the state legislature to make it necessary for the public to vote on expenditures of authorities. As admitted by Assemblyman Allen M. Gibson, who represents Warren county in Harrisburg, this could affect the Warren area school plans.

However, any local effort to stop the high school through such a bill would involve more than a certain site or a new school. No matter how we improve our school situation it must be done through an authority and any delay right now will prove costly.

For that reason it is difficult to believe that anyone or any group would be so short-sighted as to back such legislation. It also is difficult to understand why such a law is written without clauses that will provide consideration for those districts or political subdivisions which already have started projects.

A LITTLE LATE

A year ago we would have welcomed such a bill. In fact, many of us were wishing there were some way we could bring the school problem to a vote at the general election. We were confident that the public would support a new school on a new site.

We still are confident that the public would so vote, but meanwhile we will lose valuable months that could cost us thousands of dollars and might even force us to finance a major share of the building cost. There probably are other school districts in the same plight.

In the Warren area case, an architect already has been employed at a price of $116,000 of which $86,000 will be paid this year. We have been placed in line by the state for financial assistance and can be sure that if we carry through our plans now the state will pay the major share of the building cost.

But if we are forced to delay our plans, we will lose our place in line and there is no one who can say when we again will be approved, or if we will be approved as a part of some future state assistance plan. In fact, there may be no such plan after the present one runs out. Or it may be a comparatively limited one.

IS IT NEEDED?

There is some question in our mind that such a bill is needed. We doubt if you can show us one district which has built a school it didn't need with the help of authority money. In fact, school boards have a tendency to lean the opposite way. Their nature and policy is to not overspend, or even to spend enough.

If we favor this bill it is for a different kind of protection than most are mentioning. We would like to see the people have a means of expressing their wishes at times other than election year. Last fall after we had published the full reports of both architects and financing figures provided by leading bonding houses the public in this area would have very readily told its boards to get its children out of that antiquated mis-fit and build them a new school.

We are amused today when the very ones who said the public should leave the board alone and let it make its own decision are suggesting that this bill is a great idea because it would democratically express the will of the people.

Actually we don't think such a bill is needed to limit spending. We do not need laws which require the banker to limit his loan on your home. He appraises its value, checks your income, and makes a thorough study of your financial affairs. Then he names the figure he believes you can handle and which he is willing to loan.

The same goes for banking houses who deal in municipal bonds. They are not interested in buying bonds for resale if the municipality offering them is in poor financial straits. If a town has a diversity of industry, a consistent earned income, and is not overloaded with previous bonds, the bond buyers are interested and will name their rate. We have been told by leading firms that the rate for Warren right now probably would not exceed four per cent and might be less. This suggests we are in a very favorable financial condition and the minute we are not there will be no need of a bill to limit our authority. The high rate of interest proposed or the lack of purchasers of our bonds will check our spendthriftiness.

GIVE IT A FUTURE

Such a bill should not be retroactive. It should apply to authorities created in the future or to plans approved in the future by present authorities. In the Warren area case we no doubt will use the same authority as that which built additions to Beaty, and our plans already are moving ahead.

If the Warren area is forced to wait many more years for a new high school there are financial losses which will be suffered other than the obvious ones mentioned above. Our present fire trap is fast running out of space. So much so that even to get us by during the two years it will require to plan and build the new school we are going to use the highly dangerous third floor by adding a fire escape.

That will not suffice for long and soon we will be sending part of our students to some other building, or moving our administrative staff elsewhere. This will cost us money.

This is near-sighted legislation of the worst kind. It can cost us dollars, even into a million or two. And it can cost us lives. We should not continue to use our present fire trap for one day longer than is necessary. It already has a four-minute time limit for fire escape drills. A similar school had its roof caved in by flames four minutes after they started.

School officials now are attempting to empty the school in about two minutes during drills. They are counting the seconds.

There is only one solution....get out of it as soon as possible....

and tear it down! Any legislation that postpones such action is unfair and inconsiderate and the authors must not be cognizant of the troubles and emergencies which exist on the local scene.

FLOODS WILL NOT BE ELIMINATED BY DIVERTING WATER TO LAKE

By Bob Walsh

The powerful influences which have blocked the construction of a reservoir at Kinzua for many years continue to fill the press with alternative schemes which do little more than befog the public and threaten postponement of an engineering step toward full use and preservation of our natural water resources. Such a scheme is the suggested diversion of high water by way of a dug canal to Conewango Valley and then over the divide into Lake Erie.

It won't do the job. No matter how little it might cost, it would be too expensive because it would be inadequate and wasteful.

The figures being kicked around in the press are far from accurate. The canal they suggest is far more shallow than the one considered by the army engineers in 1928. Even then they are estimating that the excavation would involve 80,000,000 cubic yards of glacial deposits.

Excluding the costs of dams, control facilities, real estate, relocation of utilities, railroads, highways, and bridges, the price of an excavation of this kind is estimated at 75 cents a cubic yard. Eighty million yards would cost sixty million dollars!

And this is only for excavation! At Warren when the river goes into its flood stage at 14 feet it is flowing past our town at the rate of 45,000 cubic feet per second. Last year during our big flood which went up to 18.4 feet, the rate of flow was 75,000 cubic feet per second.

The diversion of water into Lake Erie would account for only 10,000 cubic feet per second. You can see that the diversion idea would not have reduced the water low enough to prevent a costly flood. It still would have run by and through us at the rate of 65,000 cubic feet per second!

But the proposed dam at Kinzua would have reduced our water height to 8.9 feet, well beneath the flood stage. We would have had no flood! We would have been saved 4 1/2 million dollars in one year!

In addition the borderline benefits for the diversion canal are minor. The possible electric power would be insignificant, and a major reservoir still would be needed on the Allegheny to control floods.

All of these points have been made by the engineers. The figures are theirs. Now here is one of our own.

We believe the pouring of flood waters into a canal and then into the lake would be a waste of precious water. One of the major advantages of the dam is to hold the water back not only as an immediate protection but also to maintain a healthy flow of river in dry months.

The diversion proposal would not do this. It simply would accentuate the unhealthy condition of our river in the late summer and early fall. No matter how many sewage plants are built and how much purification is practiced we still need water, fresh water, for good health and for industrial use.

The diversion solution is not a solution. It is a costly, wasteful proposal the purpose of which we suspect is not to divert water near so much as it is to divert public opinion.

ASIDES

QUITE A MONTH

Those who dream up months, weeks, and days to inspire the expenditure of dollars, and for some other reasons that are not quite so clear, always manage to confuse us. They should get together.

April starts off with Fool's Day, of course, and appropriately enough has National Laugh Week right away. If you were at all patriotic you should be laughing right now and you shouldn't stop until April 7. Don't ask us why... don't ask us.

If you want incongruity you will find it this month. In fact, we hereby nominate it as Incongruity Month. To prove it you will find that the same days found in National Noise Abatement Week also comprise Let's All Play Baseball Week. You try selling a baseball fan on that idea. No matter how little a baseball fan knows about the game or how blind he may be there is one prerogative to which he will loudly lay claim. He knows how to make noise. And he will.

Of course that let's not let noise this week business gets off to a poor start. Its opening day also is Army Day. That's what you might call starting a quiet time off with a bang. You might top it by placing the Fourth of July at the head of national whispering week. But congressional cloakrooms are said to have a 52-week monopoly on that one.

The one we really like is the Honey for Breakfast Week. We've tried about everything else for breakfast. Wonder how we would like our honey, blonde, brunette, or is there a stinger involved here?

And just in case you get that let-down feeling after so many high-lights, on April 26 they have National Fun Day, which it seems should have been back there with laugh week or Fool's Day, but a couple of days later they fix your clock by starting daylight saving time with Mother-in-Law Day.

They wind it all up with Mental Health Week so that all who dreamed up this stuff we have mentioned, and three times as many others we didn't bother to list can go have their heads examined without incrimination.

INTEREST GROWS

The Titusville Trust Company is the latest bank to show a vital interest in your money. It is running ads which offer 2-1/2 per cent interest on savings accounts.

OLD RAFTSMEN KNOW BETTER, according to E. W. Honhart, than to believe some of the statements for which he received credit in last week's feature. Surplus shingles manufactured in Warren County were peddled along the river from rafts and were in great demand short distances downstream. Barges were not built here until 1902 long after the heyday of the shingles which were shaped on the schnitzelbunk in the 1830's and 40's.

Also, the river bed between the Hickory st. bridge and the railroad bridge is nearly level. Between the Glade bridge and the Hickory st. bridge the river takes a decided drop indicated by the riffles which always detect a leveling off after a steep down grade. "The balance of my story will stand the test in any argument", writes E. W. Honhart.

FAST WRITE-OFF AVAILABLE

Though the Korean emergency is no more than an unpleasant memory, you still can benefit by the tax privileges created at that time to encourage industrial expansion (Which incidentally is one we never will understand. Should one require a tax incentive in order to make him do his patriotic duty?). There still are twelve categories for which the Office of Defense Mobilization will grant fast tax write-offs.

These include research and development laboratories, liquid oxygen and liquid nitrogen, mercury, nickel, oil and gas pipelines and petroleum storage, production facilities for military and atomic procurement, roll-on and roll-off ships, steam boilers, steam turbines, steel castings, substitutes for strategic mica, and ocean-going tankers.

SAY IT AGAIN

Radio is old enough now to realize some of its weaknesses. One of these is the tendency of people to tolerate its constant noise without really listening. Even while the news program is on people are apt to let their ear half listen while they think of something else. When a item of interest pricks their defensive wall they come to attention and many stories can be picked up at most any stage and made into sense.

One of the exceptions is the obituary. We know of nothing more irritating than to miss the deceased's name and be forced to listen to an entire biography, plus survivors, and other details while wondering who it is they are putting away. Often something about the aforementioned list will arouse the curiosity and you wonder which one of the clan is gone.

The simple solution would be to mention the name again at the end.

EIGHT-YEAR REPRIEVE

A bill has been introduced in the state senate which would make it illegal to discharge industrial waste into the waters of the commonwealth. The deadline is January 1, 1965, for both industrial waste and sewage, if they pass this amendment.

WE LIKE THIS

Senate Bill 434 would regulate and control the emission of any substances into the air which might pollute the atmosphere. County commissioners and county departments of health would regulate the discharging of such poison. (This should keep them busy in election years.)

LET THEM LOOK

A companion bill to that "open meeting" law which we have mentioned on a few occasions also would open a few other public doors. It would give any citizen of the state the right to inspect all state, county, township, municipal, and school district records. Also the records of commissions, boards, or authorities.

And the public official who prevented such an inspection would be subject to a fine of $100!

Television and Radio

By John Crosby
RODGERS AND HAMMERSTEIN'S
CINDERELLA

"We think the Cinderella story has had a pretty fair success as it is," declared Richard Rodgers, speaking of the televised version he was composing with Oscar Hammerstein. "The plot has been used in hundreds of variations over the years, but none is better known than the original. It would be presumptuous to modernize it."

Having thus genuflected to the original of all escapist literature, Rodgers and Hammerstein proceeded to modernize the hell out of it. The King and Queen (Howard Lindsay and Dorothy Stickney) - I had not realized there were monarchs in the original - were bumbling and sweet and worried parents rather than royalty. The Fairy Godmother (Edie Adams) was a sharp-tongued lady who didn't believe much in miracles and used her magic powers with the utmost reluctance. The stepmother (Ilka Chase) and stepsisters (Kaye Ballard and Alice Ghostly) were homely, human, slightly pathetic, and not at all cruel or wicked.

All these changes added modernity, humor, humaness and rather tighter motivation to the ancient story but there's no evading the fact that it also drained away some of the magic, too. The pumpkin turned into a golden coach (right in front of our eyes). The dress becomes a ball gown and all the rest of it - but it still wasn't a fairy story exactly after Rodgers and Hammerstein got finished with it.

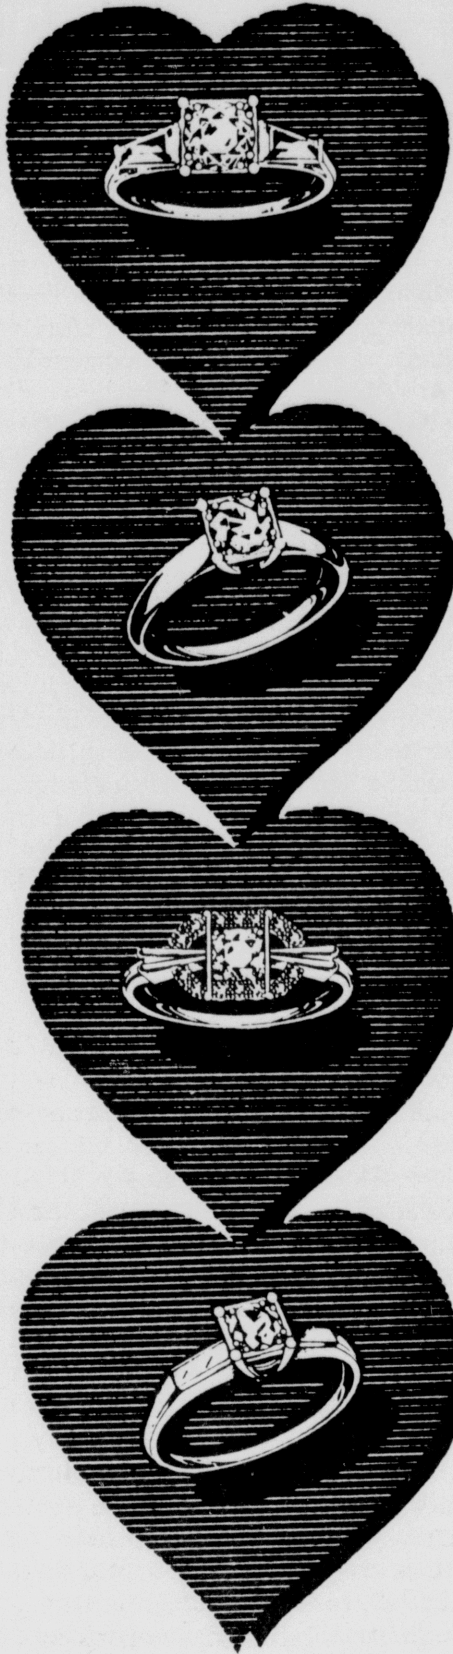

Apart from that, though, I have few complaints. Rodgers and Hammerstein, the old pros, have turned out a truly lovely score which contained not only "Do I Love You Because You're Beautiful", which already looks like a hit; but four other tunes "Impossible", "In My Own Little Corner", "Lovely Night" and "Ten Minutes Ago" which could certainly become fellow hits.

However, R & H are not simply tunesmiths; they are showmen. The "impossible" number, wherein Edie Adams ridicules the whole idea of miracles and then is gradually won around, is a beautifully staged and timed dramatic musical scene. When the two ladies, Cinderella and her fairy godmother ride off to the ball in the pumpkin coach, you have as fine and theatrical a first act curtain as you'll ever see.

The second act - to look at this with a coldly commercial eye - was also written with slick professional stagecraftsmanship, it starts - how else? With a ballroom scene of dancing. It includes a great entrance for Cinderella at the head of the stairs, Rodgers and Hammerstein not being known to shrink from sheer theatrical effectiveness. It contains the chief love scene and love song "Do I Love You" and a splendid second act curtain with Cinderella dashing through the ballroom up the stairs and out into the night, her Prince in pursuit, the glass slipper left on the stairs.

If there was any let-down at all, it was the very beginning of the third act when Cinderella asks her stepmother and stepsisters to tell her about the ball and this has been shored up with a beautiful song "A Lovely Night" sung by all four girls. Wisely, Rodgers and Hammerstein end the play with the actual wedding which gives Julie Andrews a chance to make another entrance and wear another spectacular gown and, of course, gives everyone a chance to sing a reprise of "Do I Love You".

Julie Andrews, the Cinderella girl of "My Fair Lady", was a lovely, sure-footed, wide-eyed Cinderella of the TV screen and her small clear bell of a voice was just right for these melodies (better attuned to them, in fact, than the more strenuous demands of the "Fair Lady" score.) Her Prince, Jon Cypher, I found a little wooden and neuter and unreal. Apart from him I thought the cast was just great - especially Edie Adams who came perilously close to stealing the show.

George Bernard Shaw borrowed heavily from Cinderella for "My Fair Lady" and William and Jean Eckart, who designed the costumes and scenery, returned the compliment by swiping Cecil Beaton's regency motif from "My Fair Lady". The Eckarts soft gray and pastel colors were stunning but CBS still isn't in NBC's league when it comes to transmitting and lighting color. It was a damned shame, too, because what looked like beautiful color-harmonies in clothes and settings were muddled or turned into black and white by poor camerawork or transmission, I don't know which.

Still, it was a lovely ninety minutes and perhaps we could have it again some time, preferably at some hour when the children could see it. This is a great year for Cinderella, all right. Walt Disney has just revived his Cinderella which is a smash in New York and perhaps elsewhere. NBC is coming up shortly with the Royal Ballet of London's version of the fairy story.

In Brief

THIRD ON DOCKET. The hearing by the State Supreme Court to consider the appeal for a new trial for Norman W. Moon, convicted slayer of Judge Allison D. Wade, has been placed third on the docket when the court convenes on April 15.

Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr., earlier this year refused a new trial for the Connellsville man and sentenced him to death in the electric chair. The date of execution will be set by the governor if the supreme court also turns down the defense's appeal.

Moon was found guilty of first degree murder after shooting Judge Wade in the Warren County Court room January 13, 1954.

SUPPORT LAW. Action favoring the garnishee law, which has been proposed to the State Legislature in Harrisburg, was taken by the Chamber of Commerce retailers committee in a Monday night session this week. The bill has been referred to the house committee on judiciary, of which Rep. Edwin A. Tompkins is chairman.

The proposed law would authorize judgment creditors to attach the wages of judgment debtors when such wages amount to $35 or more per week. The amount which could be attached in any week would be limited to 20 per cent of the wages due. Only one execution could be satisfied at one time, and where there are several judgment creditors, their claims would be satisfied in the order of priority in which they were presented to the employer of the judgment creditor.

It was reported at the session the Warren Parking Authority will meet next week to consider further plans for off-street parking. The latest project completed by this group is the YMCA parking lot to be used during the summer for tennis.

As is the custom during the Easter holidays, stores will be open until 5 p.m. Wednesday, April 17, and closed on Good Friday from 12 to 3 p.m.

AUTO ACCIDENTS came in a row for State Police over the week end. At 7:40 p.m. Friday just each of Warren on Route 6, Frederick Reist, R. D. 2, Warren, crossed over the center line and collided with an oncoming vehicle operated by Arthur Temple, Clarendon. Damaged amounted to $500.

About $800 damage was caused at 1:15 a.m. Saturday two miles west of Youngsville when J. Richards, Youngsville, sideswiped a second auto operated by Howard Buckley, 117 Central ave., Warren, while attempting to pass.

Fifteen minutes later the same morning a car driven by Ira Frick, Edinboro, stopped on the highway and was struck in the rear by Russell Graham, of Titusville. An ornament off the hood of the Frick car then flew off and struck the windshield of a parked car owned by Willis Sullivan, R. D. 1, Youngsville. Total damage was approximately $1100.

A $500 mix-up happened at 4 p.m. Sunday 11 miles north of Titusville on Route 27 when David Ropp, Titusville, rolled his car over during an attempted pass.

A Warren man had to be treated at a Titusville hospital on Monday after a collision eight miles north of Titusville on Route 27. Injured was John D. Russell, 117 Franklin st., Warren. He tangled with an auto driven by R. M. Weaver, Pleasantville, when the latter made a left turn in front of him. About $1000 damage resulted.

ONLY THREE TIMES. Only minor damage was caused when Claus W. Blick, 320 E. Fifth ave., and Arthur J. McDonald, Sr., 11 Bradley st., collided at the intersection of Hickory st. and Pennsylvania ave. at 11:50 a.m. Saturday, but according to the latter was the third time the two drivers had been involved in collisions together during recent years.

Both claimed they had the green light when questioned by police.

TWO-CAR MISHAP. The intersection of Second ave. and East st. was the scene of a two-car accident at 5 p.m. last Friday involving Toni L. Callenburg, 322 Union st., and William R. Osterman, R. D. 1. Miss Callenburg had started out onto Second as the latter approached East. Approximately $350 damage was caused when the two slid into each other on the wet pavement.

Warren County bankers R. W. Steber, Myron E. Jewell and Richard E. Huber will attend the 30th annual Trust conference of the Pennsylvania Bankers association Trust division in Harrisburg this Friday.

NAME NEW CENTER. "Jefferson Pavillion" is the name to be used for Warren General Hospital's new chronic illness and rehabilitation center soon to occupy the old maternity building.

The center was so named by the board of directors in honor of Alice Wetmore Jefferson, who donated the money for the building which was erected in 1917. Mrs. Jefferson was a charter member of the hospital corporation and served as its treasurer from 1898 to 1917.

The architectural firm of Beck and Tinkham, represented locally by Richard McCarthy and Lawrence Beyer, has been engaged to draw plans for the renovation of the old structure into a modern facility.

Neil Culbertson, special projects chairman, administrator Joseph Williamson and Mr. McCarthy were in Harrisburg Tuesday to discuss with a Department of Welfare official the possibility of obtaining federal funds from the Hill Burton Act to be used in the remodeling. No positive answer could be given the delegation at that time.

FIRST PLACE. A local gas company's safety program has earned it first place in the National Safety Council's industrial safety contest for large gas utilities during 1956. Employees of The Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. and its affiliated Pittsburgh Group companies of Columbia Gas System were involved in only 11 disabling accidents last year during which time they worked more than 7,605,000 man-hours.

Business Fights Fed. School Help

BY DORIS FLEESON

WASHINGTON. -- President Eisenhower will step up to bat for Federal aid to school construction when he addresses the 100th birthday party of the National Education Association Thursday.

It had begun to appear last week that the long-awaited school bill might again bite the dust. Besides being caught in the general economy way, it has been the target of an effective specific attack by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The Eisenhower Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, Marian B. Folsom, struck back hard against the Chamber both in a letter refuting its arguments and at hearings before a House committee. He found, however, that members of the House were coming under heavy pressure as a result of the U.S. Chamber's effective links with their local business interests.

The Secretary took the problem to Sherman Adams, the President's principal aide. He told Adams that the NEA's century celebration—a dinner at the Sheraton-Park Hotel—would be an appropriate and timely forum for the President to re-state his support for Federal help for school construction. Last Friday, the NEA was notified that it could expect the nation's most distinguished guest who would make a few remarks in honor of the occasion.

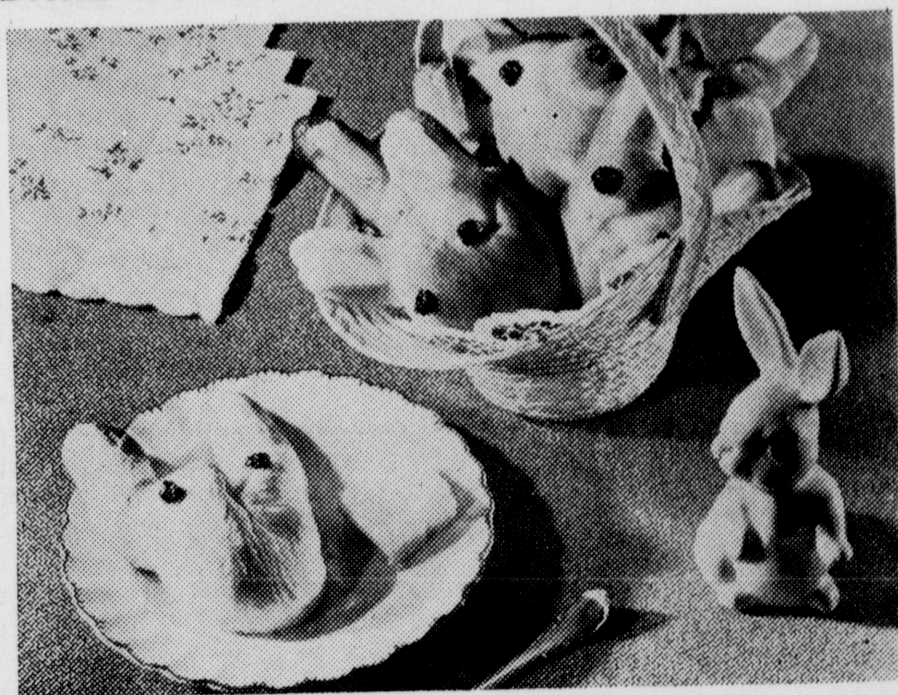

Educators are jubilant. One put it that "if the President will just call the Chamber of Commerce liars on the school figures as frankly as Folsom has in his testimony, we'll win."

The speaker apparently had Mr. Eisenhower a little confused with the next to the last President. It is not in President Eisenhower's disposition to be so blunt. It is possible, however, that business, which has so behemently attacked his budget, appears a little less perfect than it formerly did to the President.

The President also has in Folsom one of his early and ablest administrators. The Secretary came here in 1953 to be Under Secretary of the Treasury, remaining there until he succeeded Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby on August 1, 1955.

There has never been any question that Folsom was speaking by the book in his repeated assurances to Congress that the President was giving the Federal school construction the very highest priority. It is, of course, even more effective for the President to speak

BAKE BUNNY ROLLS FOR EASTER MORN

Bunnies, the almost universal symbol of Easter, make an appealing yeast-raised roll for the holiday breakfast. Your youngsters will love to help you shape and decorate them. Bunnies should have pink ears so these are frosted with pink confectioners' sugar frosting.

EASTER BUNNIES

2/3 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar
1 1/4 teaspoons salt
6 tablespoons shortening
2/3 cup warm, not hot, water
(lukewarm for compressed yeast)

3 tablespoons sugar
3 packages or cakes yeast, active dry or compressed
3 eggs, beaten
6 cups sifted enriched
flour

Scald milk. Stir in 1/2 cup sugar, salt and shortening. Set aside to cool to lukewarm. Measure water into a large mixing bowl (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast; lukewarm water for compressed yeast). Add 3 tablespoons sugar. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast. Stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture and eggs. Add and stir in half the flour. Beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour or enough to make a dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead 8 to 10 minutes or until the dough is smooth and satiny and does not stick to the board. Put dough into greased bowl and brush top with melted shortening. Cover with a cloth; let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 55 minutes. Punch down dough, pull sides into center, turn out on board. Roll small pieces of dough with palms to form ropes 1/3-inch thick and 10 to 12 inches long. To shape bunnies, tie ropes in loose knots, bringing ends up straight to form ears. Press in raisins for eyes. Brush bunnies with margarine or butter. Cover and let rise until double in bulk. Bake at 425 degrees (hot oven) 12 to 15 minutes or until brown. Frost ears with pink confectioners' sugar frosting.

It is understood that the President has several other steps in mind to help the bill as it starts on its beleaguered career through the House and Senate.

The U.S. Chamber insists the schoolrooms to be built are not needed. Folsom has reaffirmed that there is a shortage of 80,000 classrooms needed to meet overflow enrollment and 79,000 to meet obsolescence and population shifts.

Conservatives of both parties have always opposed Federal action in the school field. They have found in the present economy trend an ideal vehicle for opposing it again.

Some members of Congress complain that the educators are less expert propagandists than the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. The educators reply that they are in part hampered by pressures of businessmen in the localities where they must work.

SUN, SURF AND SNAPSHOTS

This glamour girl came fully prepared for a day at the beach, with a camera to record the sun fun. There's always a wealth of picture-taking possibilities at the seashore or lakeside, because people are relaxed and enjoying themselves, there are no troubles about lighting, and the background of blue water and fleecy white clouds is ideal. Vacationists who follow the few simple rules that come with every roll of film will have pictures that will keep summer's enjoyment alive the year around.

A word of caution: the light near the water can fool you. The bright sky and the sun reflecting from sand and waves makes the light much stronger than you think. Always treat beach pictures as bright, not average, subjects. And when trying some glamour shots of your wife or best girl, avoid the noonday sun. Light coming from directly overhead causes black shadows around the eyes and squinting by the model. It's better to take shoreside pictures of people in morning or afternoon.

BLACKBERRY GELATIN MAKES A PARFAIT

A cool dessert served in a tall, sparkling glass and topped with a drift of whipped cream spells a parfait to most of us. "Parfait" literally means perfect, and a better adjective has yet to be found to describe this sophisticated confection. A brand new ingredient in parfaits this season is blackberry-flavored vitamin C gelatin, just arrived at grocery stores in time to bring spring to your dinner table. The flavor is temptingly tart and fresh, lending itself perfectly to your luncheon and dinner menus as well as to the occasion of an afternoon or late evening refreshment. Here's the simple recipe for you to try when you introduce blackberry gelatin parfaits to your family.

ROYAL BLACKBERRY PARFAIT

- 1 package vitamin C gelatin, blackberry flavor
- 1 cup hot or boiling water
- 1 cup cold water
- 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Stir in cold water. Measure 1 cup of the gelatin and set aside in a separate bowl. Chill both portions of gelatin until thick but not set. Set one of the bowls in a bowl of ice and beat the gelatin until it is light and foamy. Pile the whipped gelatin and the thickened gelatin into parfait glasses in alternate layers, ending with thickened mixture. Chill until firm, about 1 hour. Just before serving, top each glass with a spoonful of whipped cream. Makes 5 servings.

HOW TO MAKE A SUJI FIGURE

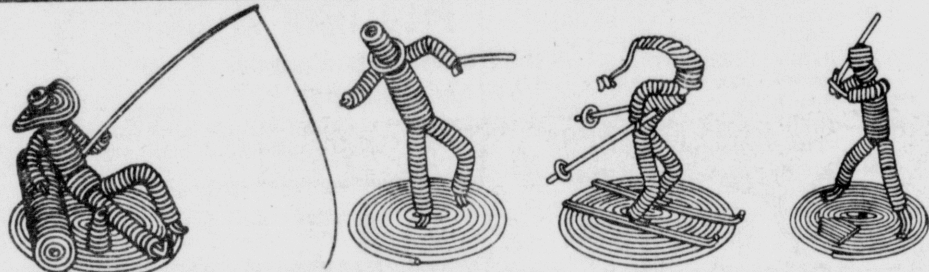

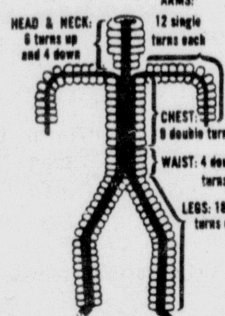

STEP 1. SKELETON: Cut 4 pieces of wire, each 4" long. Keep them together in a tight bundle with the ends even. Cut a 24" piece of wire of another color, bend it in half and hook the midpoint over the 4 skeleton wires at about the middle.

STEP 2. CHEST & ARMS: With a free end of the 24" wire, make 9 tight turns up the skeleton. With the other free end, make 9 turns on top of the first 9 in the same upward direction. Bend 2 of the top skeleton wires to the sides—one right and one left—for arms. With the free ends of the chest wire, make 12 turns on each arm. Make both arms even; clip excess wire; leave 1/16" of skeleton for each hand.

STEP 3. WAIST & LEGS: Cut a 24" piece of wire of another color, bend it in half and hook the midpoint over the skeleton just below the chest. With one of the free ends of this wire, make 4 tight turns down the skeleton. With the other free end, make 4 turns right on top of the first 4 and in the same direction. Separate the remaining skeleton wires into two pairs to serve as legs. With the free ends of the waist wire, make 18 turns on each leg. Make both legs even; clip off excess; leave 1/8" for each foot. Bend up the feet.

STEP 4. HEAD & NECK: Cut a 10" piece of wire of still another color. Beginning with one end between the shoulders, make 6 turns up the skeleton and then just 4 down on top of the first turns. Clip off the excess wire. "Kink up" the figure at the elbows and knees, as sketched, and bend it into the desired position. Glue accessory parts to the figure and then glue the figure to a base. (See instructions for making bases.)

NEW MAKE-ITS

Those who make a business of providing ways for the young people to constructively fill their hours have come up with a method of making little figures that can be doing anything from kicking a football to lazily lying against a log with a fish line dunked in the stream. It is done with bits of colored wire and they are called suji figures.

Back in those days when we were collecting pockets of horse chestnuts and acorns we dreamed up a similar pastime. We made entire football teams and other types of lilliputians out of the easy to find nuts. Using match sticks and a sharp knife we came up with about anything we wanted, and by adding a third leg from the figure's posterior the entire family, or team, or teams, stood in the middle of the parlor floor having a gay old time on our fanciest rug.

But this new idea is better, because it is not seasonal. Our figures withered up and were gone by the time basketball was in flower. With the wires you can keep busy in any week of the year, and the idea is more flexible.

We wasted fifteen minutes of a busy editor's day making one of these suji guys, and if we can do it with directions, imagine what a youngster can do with imagination.

The one we made required no more than four strands of four-inch wire, two of twenty-four inches, and another of ten. A stand can be made from the same kind of wire, and you can add skis, ball bats, fishing poles, or anything you choose to make.

One figure we saw had a ball bat over his shoulder and a home plate in front of him. All of it mounted on a circular base, also woven from insulated wire. It is the insulation that provides the variety of colors to distinguish the head, torso, and trunk from each other.

Hands can be kept mighty busy and minds actively planning with simple little ideas of this kind.

Young people also might learn a lesson in personality and peculiarities through this kind of work. No matter how standard you make the procedure, when you have completed a half dozen figures from any kind of materials, you usually come up with as many personalities, each a little different and each with his strengths and weaknesses.

In our experience of making the horse chestnut figures, we would find some were much better football players than others. Something about the balance built into them, or the build of the nuts from which they were made, gave them more power as they were tipped forward to make a tackle, or made them more stable to resist a tackle or block.

And so you will find with any little family or group of figures you make. There will be some you like better than others. Some of which you are proud. Some of which you are not proud. Yet you made all of them, and they were put together from similar material.

There is an obvious lesson here which a good playground or kindergarten, or even first or second grade teacher can get across. A lesson of tolerance and understanding that goes along with the provision of a creative pastime.

The creator made us all... and yet we differ... some times slightly... some times radically. His patience must be sorely tried with our failure to understand.

* Denotes New Programs or Program Changes

Test Pattern—

Saturday—9:15 A. M. to Program Time.

Sunday—10:45 A. M. to Program Time.

Changes In This Schedule May Be Made Without Notice.

Try making a few sujis. It is a little easier and faster than sculpturing. It may do something for you. And for your neighbor.

HAVE YOUR TICKET

Another one of those opportunities to support a worthwhile effort along musical lines will be offered the Warren area next Wednesday evening when the widely known and appreciated Pittsburgh Symphony orchestra will come to Beatty auditorium. So popular is this unit that it will be heard in 126 performances given in fifty cities this year.

With this kind of demand, Warren is fortunate to be included and it is hoped that sufficient appreciation for good music will be shown to drag 750 people away from the glare of their parlor entertainment. They will enjoy the program because it not only is the best of music, but it is done in a way that appeals to the majority.

This doesn't mean that the Pittsburgh group has cheapened the classics, but it certainly handles the best in a way that is popular. Proof of this can be found in the fact that it has been called the Hi-fi darling of the world. Its thirty-four major releases that have been made for Capitol Records in the past four years are proof of the orchestra's class.

Organized in 1896, and nursed through many trying years by loyal supporters, it has been conducted by the best, including Victor Herbert. Now handling the baton is William Steinberg, of whom most of you have heard, and those who haven't, should.

A good way to do that is to take a peek at Things to Come. You will find a list of the places where tickets can be purchased. They cost only three dollars for adults and one dollar for children. And the profits, if any, will be used to help Warren's recreational costs.

(Timely, perhaps, is the mention that the price is deductible from your income.)

Inflation won't wreck my Savings Plan

"I'm no financial expert, but I can certainly see the effects of inflation on my savings. As a result, even though security prices sometimes run opposite to the cost of living, I've decided on Mutual Funds as an income producing investment (within the limits of market risk). I purchase shares regularly each month and reinvest the dividends."

"Mutual Funds give me the advantages of wide diversification among many securities, professional management and continuous supervision. And under my periodic purchase plan I can add to my holdings out of current earnings."

BATTERS UP! — Gene Kelly (center) leads the cheers for five of the many baseball stars who will appear on NBC-TV's "Salute to Baseball" colorcast on Saturday, April 13. Kelly will emcee the 90-minute show. The batters are (left to right) Don Newcombe of the Brooklyn Dodgers, Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies, Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals, Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees and Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox. Williams, Musial and Newcombe are normally left-handed batters, but — with artist's license — they're shown swinging right-handed along with switch-hitters Mantle and Roberts just to maintain the rhythm of the drawing.

POOR ELECTION FODDER

The policy of the Republican majority in the Pennsylvania legislature certainly is not aimed at changing its reputation of being a friend of the big money interests. Not only does it insist on a sales tax, but it wants it to be a very bad sales tax. If you buy a box of nails you will pay a sales tax, but if a utility buys one it pays no tax.

Certainly you can't say that this is being done to entice business to our state. The utilities will be here as long as there are customers. And any time they want to leave there are many ready to take their place.

FAMOUS ROLES — The ill-fated lovers in Verdi's "La Traviata" will be John Alexander and Elaine Malbin in the colorcast production in English by the NBC Opera Company Sunday, April 21. The opera, based on the famous novel and play "Camille," will be the fifth and final production of the season by the opera company.

CHURCH LEAGUE CHAMPS

Grace Methodist basketballers battled to a 66-64 victory this week to claim the Warren Church League title in a best-of-three series with St. Paul's Lutheran.

The champions won their second game of the race by compiling a 14 point cushion in the first half and then hung on as the Swedes closed the gap to a slim two-point finish. Pacing the victory with 22 and 20 points respectively were Craig Wyman and Dick Kyler. Bob Whitehill starred for St. Paul's with 22.

Grace also took the opening play-off title 78-68 with Kyler and Wyman the big pointmakers. Each had 24 counters, as Larry Lawton racked up 22 for the Swedes.

The second game was a see-saw battle that saw St. Paul's pulling into a 75-72 finish in the final minute of play. Wyman again stole top honors with 28 marks, while Whitehill and Jack Beck tallied 24 and 21 for the victors.

COACH LEAVES

Football coach Flath of Franklin high school has accepted a position on the Babylon, L. I., N. Y. high school faculty.

STATE TITLEHOLDERS

Sharon high's Tigers became Pennsylvania's schoolboy champions for the second time in the school's history last Saturday night when they grabbed the PIAA Class A title from Chester 59-50. Nearly 9,500 fans viewed the spectacle in the Palestra at Philadelphia and thousands of others watched and heard the title match over TV and radio.

Coaching the team to the title and an unbeaten season was Bud Laycock, who was also a member of Sharon's first state championship team in 1930.

A pair of state finals were staged last Friday night with Fountain Hill taking the West's Shannock Valley 72-64 for the Class B title, while Fleetwood scored a Class C crown in a come-from-behind 64-63 thriller over Williamsburg. The latter team was previously undefeated with a 20-game streak.

TO STATE TOURNEY

Fifty bowlers will be representing the Warren Knights of Columbus at the national K. of C. tournament in Pittsburgh this Saturday and Sunday. The 10-team contingent which will leave the local lodge rooms at 8 o'clock Saturday morning, expects to be one of the largest in attendance for councils of its size.

The bowlers are scheduled to throw 'em down the alleys at 5:30 Saturday afternoon in the doubles and singles events and at 2:30 (instead of 12:30 as previously announced) Sunday afternoon for the team competition.

ASIDES IN SPORTS

Sharon high, 1957 Class A basketball champions in PIAA, won its only previous state crown in 1930 by defeating Lower Merion by a score of 18 to 14. The team finished that season with a 21-4 record compared to a 28-0 account registered this season.

In 1930 there were only eight districts in the state and it is interesting to note that to win the District 8 championship the Tigers had to first beat Sheffield 35-12 and Erie East 29-21.

Another amusing fact is the score of the state finals that year. It ended 18-14, the half time score was 8-7 for Sharon, and the high scorer was Sharon's Murphy with four FG's for eight points. Murphy was the only player in the game to tally over one field goal, and the only one of six players of both team to even score a FG.

WIN UAV TOURNEY

The Upper Allegheny Valley cage tournament staged at Northern Area high last Friday was won by the West Forest senior aggregation over the Northern Area juniors.

The contests featured games between the senior and junior teams of the two schools mentioned and Tidioute.

Why Your Gas Rates
May Go Up

By Thomas L. Stokes

WASHINGTON -- Several current developments direct attention to the burden of the citizen as taxpayer and consumer and how these are intensified because of special privileges enjoyed by select groups in our economy.

With your kind indulgence we will revert once again to the most glaring case of special treatment, meaning the oil and gas industry.

You will recall the lobby it operated here last year -- and so flagrantly that it got the description "arrogant" from our President -- to put through Congress the bill to exempt natural gas producers from regulation by the Federal Power Commission. You will recall how Senator Francis Case (R., S. Dak.) revealed dramatically on the Senate floor, toward the end of Senate consideration of the gas bill, that a lobbyist for the Superior Oil Company of California had offered a $2,500 contribution to his campaign which he had rejected.

You will remember that a special Senate committee was set up to investigate that and other lobbies, headed by Senator John McClellan (D., Ark.). That committee is holding a series of sessions this week to review last year's inquiry and to go over recommendations from its staff for legislation to tighten up our lobby laws and campaign fund regulations, and to prepare a final report which it expects to submit by April 15.

While this committee skirted completely around oil and gas contributions to campaigns of Senators, of which there have been many and in larger sums than was offered Senator Case, it did bring out that the big oil companies that financed the lobby for the Natural Gas Bill spent $2,000,000 for what its representatives called "education" in their testimony before the Senate committee. During the inquiry the question was raised as to how much of this $2,000,000 "education" fund was written off as business expenses in their income taxes. The final report of the McClellan committee may throw more light on that interesting aspect.

But we do know, without that, that the big oil companies are flush with funds for lobbying and for campaign contributions because of the 27-1/2 per cent depletion allowance which gives them a "kitty." Once again last week we saw an attempt by Senators John Williams (D., Del.) and Paul Douglas (D., Ill.) to reduce that and once again we saw the farce of the Senate refusing to permit a record, roll-call vote, but shouting the proposals down by voice vote.

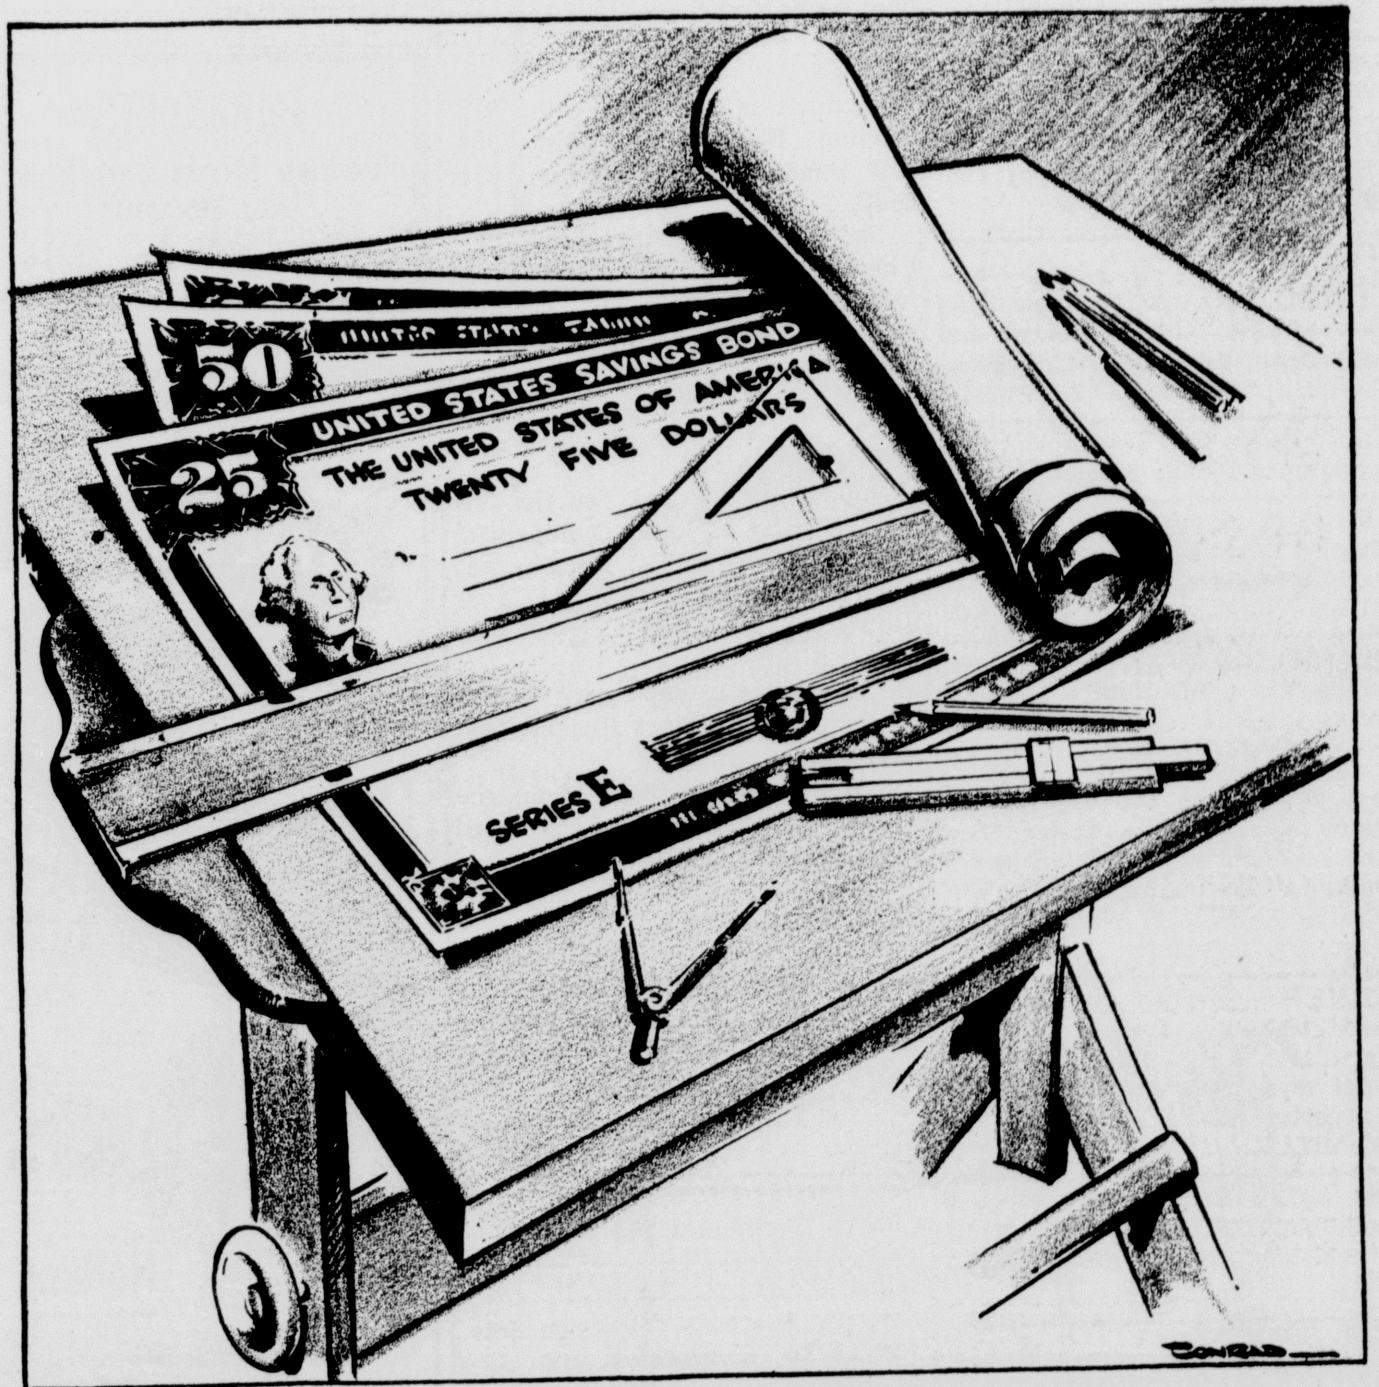

We can take the case of Superior Oil Company in the Case affair. It paid no income tax at all in 1953 and 1954 through operation of the depletion allowance and other deductions, though it showed net incomes in excess of $10 million and $12.5 million respectively. Instead it got credits of $100,000 in 1953 and $500,000 in 1954 from the Treasury. This is only one of 10 oil companies that had offsets through the depletion allowance sufficiently to wipe out tax at one time or another to the Treasury. One company paid no tax in five out of ten years, and others paid none for periods ranging from one to four years out of the ten years covered, 1945 to 1954 inclusive.

PLAN TODAY — BUILD FOR THE FUTURE

It was said here in a recent column that Kerr-McGhee Industry, with which Senator Robert Kerr (D., Okla.) is connected, was one of those that paid no income tax for one of the 10 years. That was true in 1946, but the company had a loss that year, operated at a deficit, a fact overlooked and herewith rectified. In 1953, however, the company paid only fifteen-one hundredths of one per cent, or $4,724 on a net income of $3,077,477. In 1949 it paid fifty-seven-one hundredths of one per cent, and in 1954, one per cent. Only in two years was its tax over five per cent -- 26.44 per cent in 1945 and 17.63 in 1950.

Incidentally, as for the consumer, President Eisenhower, who vetoed the Natural Gas Bill last year because of the lobby, recommended its enactment in his annual message to Congress on January 10 and repeated his recommendation last week in his news conference.

Back again to the taxpayer -- and some remarks made during debate on the gas bill last year by Senator Douglas which seem pertinent now:

"The men and women who earn their money by the sweat of their brows, and who at this time of the year are scraping together enough to pay their Federal income tax, must feel a great compassion for these poor companies, devoid of incentive, who with millions of dollars in net income yet pay no taxes."

Thus ironically he referred to the companies which again are seeking to get exemption, as producers, from Federal Power Commission regulation. That will open the way for them to boost their rates.

HOT CROSS BUNS have a long and honorable history. Ancient Greeks, Egyptians, Saxons all made buns marked with crosses, which — they thought — had powers not only to insure good baking but also to prevent sickness. No matter what the appeal was centuries ago, today's popularity for hot cross buns comes about because they're such wonderful eating. But care should be taken so that they are served piping hot. Heat them in the top of a double boiler over rapidly boiling water. Cover tightly and heat about 5 minutes. Or place the buns in a heavy brown paper bag or leave them right in the package and heat at 350 degrees (moderate oven) about 5 minutes.

FLAVOR TRICKS FOR FISH STICKS — little bars of boneless fish, pre-cooked to a delicate brown and frozen — perk up early spring meals. Although the sticks are good "as is" when cooked according to package directions, here are variations to make meals fun to plan. Before baking the sticks, sprinkle them with: (1) dry or freshly grated American cheese; (2) a mixture of dried thyme, marjoram, oregano; (3) dried parsley, celery flakes and poultry seasoning; (4) dried mint flakes and nutmeg; or (5) poppy seeds.

LET YOUR MAIL-MAN DO YOUR ERRANDS for you, while you relax at home. Modern bank services make it possible for you to do nearly all your banking by mail — a mighty valuable convenience if you live in the country or at some distance from your nearest bank. The practice of paying bills by check has been popular for years. Now many banks make it possible for you to deposit and withdraw funds and even get a bank loan, all by mail.

NEW EISENHOWER HIGH SCHOOL DEDICATION CEREMONY APRIL 9th

This is the one and a half million dollar General Dwight D. Eisenhower junior and senior high school that will be officially dedicated at a ceremony Tuesday evening, April 9. The beautiful structure is located on the Russell-Lander road and has been occupied by students of the Northern Area since September 14 of 1956.

The Eisenhower high school has a capacity enrollment of 600 students ranging from seventh grade through the senior year. Its current attendance is 450 pupils, but this will be increased considerably next term.

The building, which rests on a 22-acre site, contains 22 classrooms (including two shops, a foundry and home economics suite), one music suite (including a band room and three practice rooms), one library, one auditorium (including a stage room) which seats 617, one gymnasium (with boy and girl locker suites) which seats 930, one cafeteria (with a kitchen) which seats 200.

Also a guidance room, two student activity rooms, one medical suite (including an office, audio and waiting room), one general office (with two private offices, a mimeograph and public address room), one general conference room, two storage rooms, one maintenance equipment garage. In addition the school has a recreation field and three parking areas, two of which are paved.

The total amount financed by the State Public School Building Authority toward the cost of the school was $1,252,000. A break down in costs shows: general contract, $801,099.55; plumbing contract, $97,315.48; heating contract, $114,762.00; electrical contract, $88,888.88; architects fee, $66,129.95; and furniture and equipment, $78,109.50.

There were other smaller costs such as $5,001.40 for the site. Annual rental is $81,024.36. The part paid by the state amounts to $67,520.30 and by the school district $13,504.06.

The architectural firm for the 75,500 square foot project was Hunter Campbell and Rea of Altoona, Moyer Bros. of Altoona had the general contract, David N. Brown of Bradford the plumbing and heating, and Bevevino Electric of Warren the electrical.

On the administration staff of the school are supervising principal Everett A. Landin, principal Harold W. Landin, assistant principal John E. Binney, and administrative assistant Norge E. Luvison.

Two of the more recent housing settlements branching up in the immediate Warren area are Quaker Heights, Inc., and the Hillcrest Development.

Covering 130 acres, the Quaker Heights Development is located north of Quaker Hill rd. above Watson Home and is owned jointly by Clair Beyer, president, Lawrence Beyer and Fred Beyer.

Seven houses have or are in the process of being constructed in the area.

The Hillcrest Development is situated at three-corners near North Warren and takes in 300 acres including a wooded area. In the background of the picture is the Richard Betts residence, the only home built on the location at this time, Jim Blomquist is president and other shareholders are Mrs. Blomquist and the Quaker Heights owners.

Both developments are situated in quiet locations and are equipped with almost all the utility conveniences. There are no price restrictions on the homes constructed on the settlements, however, homes built are to cover a minimum amount of space, must be so far apart, etc.

TE LA DI O

BIRTHDAY FOR "OUTLOOK"

NBC-TV's Sunday mid-afternoon program, "Outlook", celebrated its first anniversary last Sunday much to the pleasure and surprise of its crew. In the beginning, it seemed that the odds were against its acceptance: Who would be interested in a serious news program at that hour? For five weeks the critics panned it, calling it the silliest news show of the season.

Maybe it was, for its planners tried to be all things to all people. On the sixth week, they dropped certain features designed to "popularize" the show and built the program around news stories that appealed to themselves. The change in tactics shifted "Outlook" into high gear: the experts claim that in spite of the time-period it has secured a vast Sunday afternoon audience.

It is not a program especially concerned with popularity ratings, however. It simply assumes that the American public is breathlessly awaiting every Sunday afternoon to hear a few things about astrophysics or urban sociology or the Gulf of Aquaba. And apparently the assumption is correct.

"Outlook" has a new Sunday time, as of last week. Formerly seen at 3-3:30 p. m., it now has the 5:30-6 p. m. niche.

THE INNOCENT YEARS

"The Innocent Years" and "Back in the Thirties" are two new explorations on film planned by NBC-TV's Project 20 for presentation next fall. The first will cover the period 1900-1914 and in the words of its producer "portrays an era that was the last decade of innocence . . . when the outside world was of no concern to the American people . . . the last untroubled period in American history". Themes will be the story of Theodore Roosevelt, Mexican Revolution, immigration, industrialization and invention, women and tastes and manners of the period, including the Suffragette and Prohibitionist movements.

"Back in the Thirties", 1929-1939, will cover a decade of crisis and adjustment in American history, from the aftermath of the great crash in 1929 to the New York World's Fair. It will include Franklin Delano Roosevelt's fireside chats, talks by Herbert Hoover, Hugh Johnson and Will Rogers as well as other notable figures of the day; Benny Goodman and his swing band, the Lambeth Walk, bingo, bank night at the movies, pinball machines and the Irish Sweepstakes.

FOURTH NETWORK

National Telefilm Associates, distributor of films to television, is opening this week what it terms a "fourth network". According to N.T.A., this network consists of 133 independent stations that have agreed to televise one feature film each week, supplied of course by N.T.A. The sponsors are Warner-Lambert Pharmaceutical Co. and the P. Lorillard Co. The film package includes 33 outstanding Twentieth Century - Fox movies never before seen on television.

Two stations serving this area have joined the "new network". They are KDKA-TV, where "Premiere Performance" will be a regular Thursday 11:15 p. m. feature, and WGR-TV with a Tuesday p. m. spot at 11:30, "Suez", starring Loretta Young and Tyrone Power, was this week's presentation. Other movies to be shown during April are "14 Rue Madelaine", with James Cagney and Annabelle; "The Late George Appleby", with Ronald Coleman and Peggy Cummings; "Guadalcanal Diary", with William Bendix, Preston Foster and Richard Conte.

NBC OPERA SCHEDULES FALL TOUR

The NBC Opera Company will give 70 performances in 57 cities on its annual tour of the country beginning next fall. More than 100 artists and musicians will appear during the ten-week journey. The repertoire will include "The Marriage of Figaro", "Madam Butterfly" and "La Traviata". The first two were seen on tour last year and "La Traviata", this year's addition, will also be seen on the NBC-TV network on Easter Sunday, April 21. All presentations are in English.

NEW PITTS STATION SENDS KDKA-TV TO CBS

KDKA-TV will become a basic affiliate of the CBS network this summer when a second VHF station arrives in the Pittsburgh area. KDKA-TV has been unable to supply many of the top programs because of the "3 networks-1 station" situation. The change will permit the carrying of many CBS programs formerly unavailable.

The new Pittsburgh station will be WIIC on channel 11, an affiliate of the National Broadcasting Company. It will carry a full schedule of NBC programs, day and night. Telecasting by WIIC is expected to begin July 15.

PEEKIN' AHEAD

GISELE MACKENZIE will star in a new NBC-TV show this coming fall. It will be sponsored by the Scott Paper Co. and occupy the Saturday night 9:30-10 spot.

If SID CAESAR returns next fall it will not be in his present Saturday, 9-10 p. m., show. This has been taken over by two half-hour programs. Caesar and NBC are still at loggerheads as to his future. NBC says Caesar once a month is enough . . . Sid wants an hour show at least three weeks out of four and preferably weekly.

MAMA and THE BOING-BOING SHOW will disappear into oblivion unless picked up by individual stations. They were dropped by CBS last week and turned over to Television Film Sales, Inc., for syndication.

RAY ANTHONY SHOW says "bye-bye" at the end of this month. It is being replaced about May 3 on ABC by a Plymouth-sponsored show, "Date With the Angels".

"SALLY", instead of "Molly", is Joan Caulfield's new film series which may turn up next season on NBC, probably in a Sunday evening spot.

JIMMY DEAN SHOW premieres Monday morning, April 8, at 7 o'clock on WBEN-TV via the CBS network. The program has a big cast of performers and stars Jimmy Dean, maker of country music, who sings, plays the piano, accordion and guitar.

DIAL SPINNERS

PRIVATE SECRETARY, the comedy series starring Ann Southern as secretary, Susie MacNamara, moved this week to Tuesday evening at 8:30 on channel 4. The former Sunday evening show lost its place to Jack Benny and the dancing Champions, on alternate Sunday nights.

SUSIE, and don't let this confuse you, is a comedy situation series about a secretary and her boss which is televised each Monday-through-Friday afternoon at 1:15 over Channel 4. Ann Southern plays the role of the forgetful but lovable secretary to a talent agent. Sound familiar? Susie Ann must be a busy gal.

SPIKE JONES introduced his musical-variety show on Tuesday night of this week on the CBS network. Gordon MacRae was guest star. The program features dixieland, polka, calypso, rock 'n' roll and popular ballads.

MASTERS' GOLF TOURNAMENT, one of the world's greatest golfing events, will be televised and broadcast exclusively by CBS from the Augusta (Ga.) National Golf Club on Sunday afternoon, April 7. More than 100 of the nation's top golfers have been invited to participate in the 72-hole tournament, the final exciting rounds to be carried on the Sunday program. Some of the entrants are Jack Burke, Jr., Cary Middlecoff, Sam Snead, Ben Hogan, Jimmy Demaret, Ken Venturi, Lloyd Mangrum and Tommy Bolt. Prize money is expected to exceed $20,000. TV time is 4:30. Radio time, 5:05.

TELEPHONE HOUR (NBC Radio, Monday, April 8, 9-9:30 p. m.), will introduce Giorio Tozzi, young Met basso, in a Verdi aria from "Babucco". Also noted for his musical comedy roles, he will sing "Some Enchanted Evening" from "South Pacific" and Paoli Tosti's ballad, "The Last Song".

IT'S A GREAT LIFE will be replaced by DEAR PHOEBE on Comedy Time (NBC) beginning April 19. Peter Lawford and Marcia Henderson co-star in the latter show.

PALM SUNDAY special programs will be carried by the NBC network. Services held at the Church of the Redeemer (Episcopal) in Cincinnati, Ohio, will include the Holy Communion service. In observance of Passover, a dramatic program will be presented in cooperation with the Jewish Theological Seminary.

SPORTS SCENE

Friday night BOXING on Cavalcade of Sports (NBC) will have tv and radio coverage of the Speiser-Anthony light heavyweight fight. This will be a 12-round bout with the winner slated to battle champion Archie Moore for the light heavyweight title in Detroit on June 7. Chuck Speiser and Tony Anthony were teammates on the 1952 Olympic boxing team. Speiser, from Lansing, Mich. won an Olympic title and was NCAA champion while at Michigan State. Anthony, a New Yorker, came up as a Golden Gloves boxer. Their records are: Speiser, 19-4-1, including 14 knockouts; Anthony, 29-4 with 22 kayoes.

RED BARBER'S CORNER, following the fight Friday night, will feature Walter O'Malley, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, as guest star. O'Malley will give his views on the recent speculation that the Dodgers may move to Los Angeles.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL series, on NBC-TV, starts Saturday with an exhibition game between the Brooklyn Dodgers and Milwaukee Braves at Dallas, Texas. Telecast time is 2:30 p. m., EST. The two clubs are considered the chief contenders for this year's National League pennant race.

BASEBALL GAME OF THE WEEK will premiere on channel 4 (WBEN-TV) Saturday afternoon with the one-time World Series rivals, Cleveland Indians and New York Giants, in a pre-season game from Busch Stadium, Houston, Texas. Dizzy Dean and Buddy Blattner will handle the play-by-play and commentary.

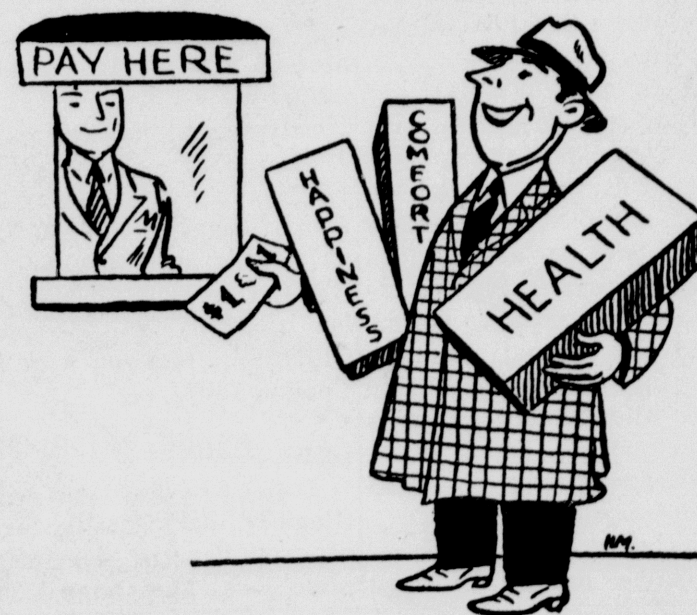

The 1957 game-of-the-week schedule assures viewers of a standout big-league tussle each Saturday throughout the season, with every team to be seen in action except the Chicago Cubs, 1956 cellar-dwellers in the National league. Standby games are scheduled in the event the main games are rained out.

BOWLING - Joe Wilman will be rolling them again this coming week end for his fifth consecutive match. Challenging him will be Eddie Labansky, of Detroit. Wilman had 659 against Graz Castellano's 597 last week end. His average for twelve games is 217 and he has upped his take to $4500.

HE GETS AROUND

If you like to hunt and fish it always is interesting to talk to some one who has done it in a big way and in many sections of the world. This is even more interesting when the man can talk in a way that holds your attention.

Such is the case with Lou Klewer who will show movies and talk about them at a public meeting of the Warren Field and Stream Club in Beatty auditorium next Tuesday evening, at 7:30. President of the Outdoor Writers Association of America and a veteran outdoorsman with experiences covering many areas and continents, he comes here highly rated by those who have heard him.

The cost is only a dollar, and fifty cents for the youngsters. And if you like the woodlands and streams you should get that back in a hurry.

Most of us cannot manage the fun had by a few who travel to gain a variety of experiences. But realizing the variety of exciting adventures we have in a small way even within the range of our pocketbook or the time allowed, it is obvious that the Lou Klewers, Tod Lornings, and Chet Thurstons must bump into some that make good telling.

And today they bring their experiences home on film so that we can see . . . and believe. Drop around. We believe we are very safe in predicting that you will like it.

BIG LITTLE COUNTY

Take off your coon skin chapeaux again to our neighbor just south of the border. A look at the deer and bear kill will reveal that Forest county must take the per capita record by a large spread of horns.

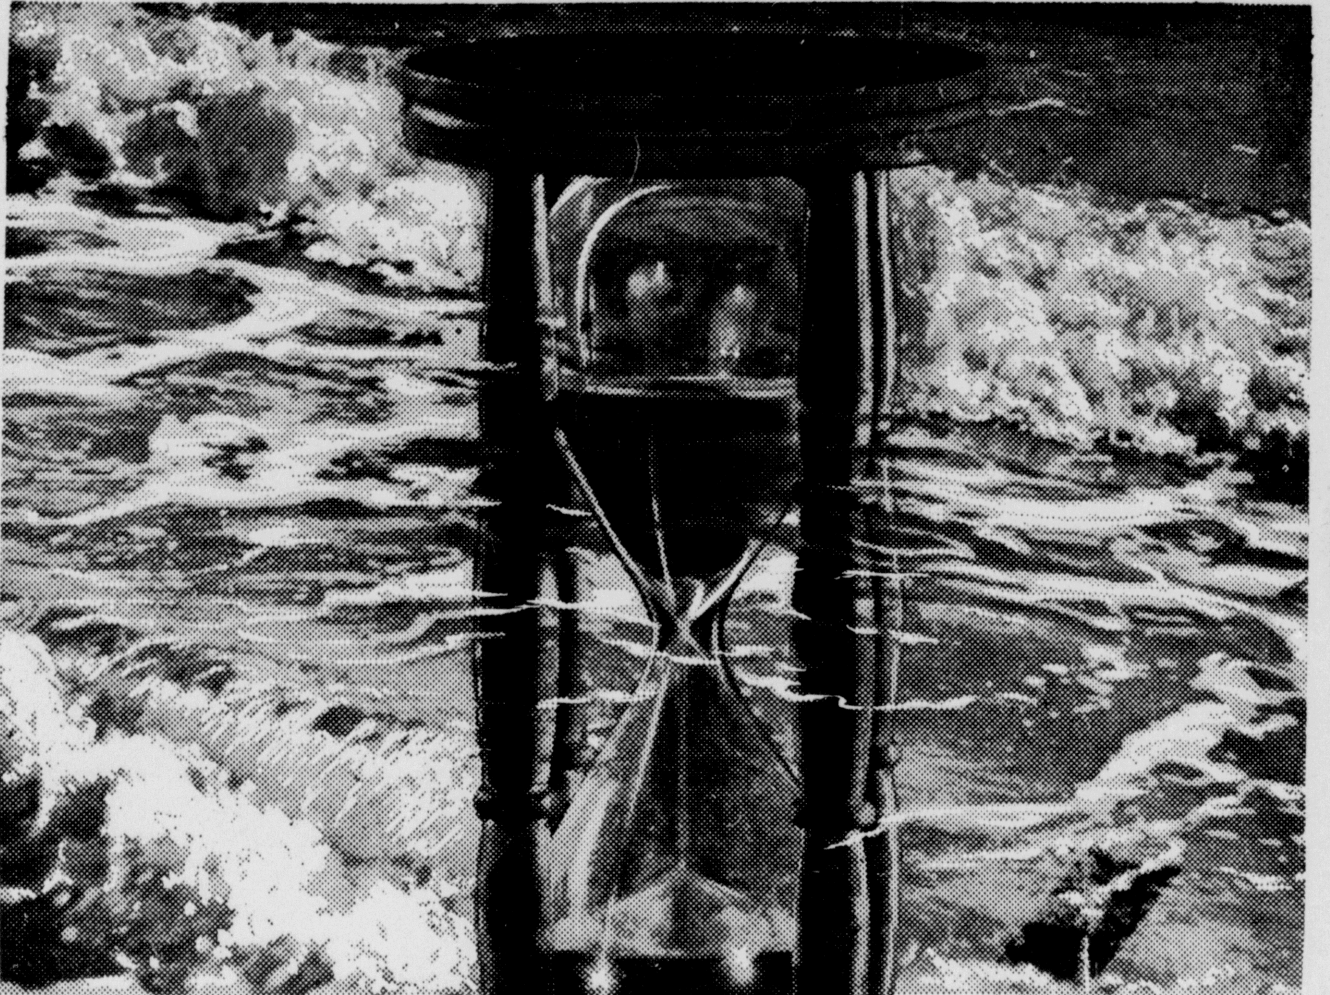

They knocked off 1395 deer and thirteen bears in Forest last fall. Warren county accounted for only 1404 deer and they topped our eight bears.

We believe the deer kill was the highest in Potter where 2078 were brought in. Elk, right next to Forest, nailed up 27 bear skins. Bradford county, where the deer kill was only 1131, produced 21 bears. Little Sullivan county right under Bradford killed 1115 deer and 20 bears.

They go for bears over that way. Big Lycoming led the state with 31, but its 1631 deer was topped by Elk with 1771, McKean with 1632, and Centre, 1809.

DEER PAY OFF

The 2,681 deer that were killed illegally, accidentally, or because of crop damage were not a complete loss. The Game Commission

TIME

. . . wait for no man! When opportunity comes your way, it pays to be prepared. It usually takes "cash in the bank" to sieze a favorable business opportunity . . . or make an important purchase at an exceptionally low price. The only way to have "cash in the bank" is to put it there . . . on a systematic schedule of saving. Open a savings account here and add to it every week. NICE CATCH

Game Protector H. Rickert in Berks county set a trap for ducks for banding purposes early last month. He baited it with corn. When he visited the trap he found it the object of curiosity of several deer. Inside the trap was a strange substitute for a duck.

Squirring through a two feet by eight inch opening a deer had managed to make his way into the tube-shaped contraption of chicken wire. After nearly wrecking the trap he was maneuvered out the gate, but no ducks came near that portion of the lake for several days.

Apparently the quackers like their corn straight.

GIVE GAME A CHANCE

You can go hunting squirrels with a pistol next fall, maybe. A bill allowing you to use an auto-pistol for hunting has passed the senate and is in the state house. What an auto-pistol is we are not sure. But if they mean an automatic, what a wild time it will be when some of these excited ones pull down on an old grey in full flight.

A good companion law would be a requirement that all hunters enter the woods fully equipped with fox holes. In fact, this could be amended to the one which would make it unlawful fo you to hunt in this state unless you are wearing a bright red cap.

Now you see why the British wore red. They didn't want to be shot.

WARREN SEWER INADEQUACIES ARE REVEALED BY NEW HIGH SCHOOL

By Bob Walsh

You don't need to be an engineer, nor do you need a shovel or a geiger counter to uncover what doesn't go under the surface where Warren sewers are laid. The plans for a new high school on upper Fifth ave. have unveiled the inadequacies of a major portion of those sewers and the revelation is quite apt to be applicable to other areas of the community.

Don't blame the new high school if more or bigger sewers are needed. They will be needed no matter where you place the large building that is required to house our growing student body.

What we haven't noticed is that the growing student body also represents a growing town, and for every new student for which we must find rooms, books, and teachers there is a pair of adults who require housing and the related services, such as sewers.

The fact that the high school plans emphasize the lack of sufficient sewer pipe in the Conewango ave. area also emphasizes that we are locating it in one of the heaviest populated sections of the borough, a fact which makes those who have harped on transportation costs look a little uninformed.

The fact is that seventy per cent of the student body will be within easy walking distance of the new school, and a big share of that seventy per cent live very close. The curve made by the confluence of Pennsylvania and Conewango avenues and all the homes caught within that triangle represent a major share of Warren's population. And all of them are close to the school.

So dense has become this residential area that the sewers may not handle any additional housing that may be needed to extend the community into the nearby hills, the only place where the town can normally expand without going out to the terminals of the various avenues. School or no school, this problem is one we must solve.

THE BIG FIFTH

While we have been talking about dividing the big Fifth Ward into two sections to handle voting and assessing problems, we have failed to realize that the same cause offers other difficulties. The upper Fifth has expanded and filled until there isn't a good-sized lot left for the youngsters to play ball. Blocks where one house sat a few years ago now are filled.

The result is that the Conewango sewer can't handle the load even today. When the flow becomes too heavy the excess is trapped off into the Conewango creek.

This, of course, will be remedied if the authority recently voted by the Warren borough council to complete the sewer system and build a plant does its job. We will not be able to empty this sewage into the Creek. We must enlarge the Conewango ave. sewer so that it will carry whatever the future load may be all the way to the pumping station on the Island.

In short, more or bigger sewers are the order of the day in this area as the matter already stands. The school does no more than bring it into focus. The school does not create the problem. That problem already confronts us and is one of those which should be solved and must be eliminated when we spend that one and a half million dollars for a sewage plant and the connecting sewers.

At the very most the school will mean no more than enlarging the pipe which comes down Fifth to Redwood. This should be done anyway if we are to meet the demand of residential expansion, as we surely must do, and very soon.

If our policy is to be that future housing developments must pay the cost of sewers laid into a main connection somewhere within the borough, then let us establish such a policy and apply it to the school situation. Our proper borough committee then can sit down with the school committee and work out the plan, a plan which we are sure will cost far less than a special sewage plant for the school. And we also are sure that the school boards involved will welcome the reduced cost and will pay their proportionate shares.

There is no great obstacle created here by the new school. The obstacle is one we face, school or no school. And one for which we are about to spend $1,500,000 to eliminate. The men appointed to serve on this authority certainly are sufficiently informed to be aware of this and also cannot help but know that it is unavoidable.
